Reese stood in the open store. The cute little animals all were glancing at her saying take me home. Reese raced cage to cage until she saw the right animal. "nnnn" the hamster said Reese. She smiled at the hamster you are the one I have been looking for my hole life you are so cute.

"I rile want this one mom" Reese said "he is super cute mom " "NO" mom yelled "mane you can get the money for it" " But mom I only have 16$ and I need 32$ to buy it " she rille wanted the hamster so she begs her mom for money. This is what she said to her mom "mom can I have money to buy the hamster " "No " mom said.

And she asked her neighbor if she need some help she said "yes you can shovel my garden and put my seeds in it and don't forget to put the worms in the soli to make it better." So Reese shoveled the dirt and she put the seeds in and her neighbor said, "you need sunflower seeds and tulip seeds for my garden" so then Reese put the seeds in that. Her neighbor wanted.

After that she went to her other neighbor and asked if they needed help and they said "yes, you can help me with something, I am going on vacation and my dog needs food and water, can you buy it too because I ran out." So Reese went on her bike to the store and she bought the dog food her neighbor wanted and she rode her bike back to her neighbors and fed the dog. She did this every day until her neighbor got back. Her neighbor paid her $50 for doing that. Then she got the money for her to buy the hamster. The hamster was named Juice.

From that day on she still loved stuffed animals and real animals too.
