Taylor raced outside into the car and said come on hurry up! Ring,ring,ring". She said so he would move as fast as he could. He raced outside to and she said I forgot something I'll be right back". She ran as fast as she could back in the house Barack out she was breathing so hard.

Her dad could hear her breathing. He gave her a bottle of freezing cold water. She chugged the entire water down. Before she new it they were already at the farm.

Taylor unlocked the door, Taylor ran for the horses, she ran as fast as she could before she knew it she was already there. Her dad was calling her she ran all the way to her dad she said...DAD DAD I FOUND THE HORSES COME ON COME ON! She yelled.

They walked over and got one horse. When they drove home they saw her aunt Sandy with her horse. They both rode on the track next to her house.

The next day she got signed up for riding lessons because her aunt was the coach of the riding lesson team. the next day it was her day to start and she was so happy because she got to use her new horse.

After they were done for the day with riding lessons they got to go on a field trip and have ice cream cake. And go to the zoo for a birthday party. She invited her whole class of riding lessons.

They all came to riding lessons with their own huge bag of candy and all of the candy was shaped of a horse because it was a horse party. The day before this day she had a cake full of horses and everything there was pictures of her and her horse black beauty and they were in all different kinds of places like Indiana, Florida, Tennessee and all the different places she loved.

She asked her dad if she can open a place down town to make other people's horses look really good. She asked her dad if he can take pictures of her making other people's horses look really good. He said "yes".

The day after that they went down town and opened a place so she could make people's horses look good. Sense she made the horses look good she got 1,000 dollars in one hole day.

Taylor went to a store and got one thing for each person in her family. They all said "that is sweet of you and thank you". The next day they all got her stuff for her horse and she said "you guys are the best" her family said the same thing back.

The day after that Taylor let her hole family ride her horse even her coz ants
